Be Part of This Adventure and Help Make a Difference

In June 2018, Jason Shuker will be competing in the Race Across America (RAAM) to raise awareness and funds for Pancreatic Cancer Canada. RAAM is one of the most respected and longest running ultra-endurance events in the world. Starting in Oceanside, California and ending in Annapolis Maryland, RAAM covers 5000km in 12 days. It is 30% longer than the Tour de France and is completed in about half the time.

Unlike the Tour de France, the athletes taking on RAAM don't have a paid crew to take care of meals, massages, laundry, bike maintenance and logistics. Competitors ride night and day, sleeping for short intervals in a van crewed by friends donating their time and expertise.

There is no race like RAAM that combines the challenges of time, distance, terrain and weather; no other event that tests a team's spirit from beginning to end. The race inspires everyone who has been a part of it—racer, crew, staff and fans alike. RAAM is the true test of speed, endurance, strength and camaraderie. We hope you will come along for the ride!

Pancreatic Cancer Canada

Pancreatic cancer is the 4th leading cause of cancer-related death in Canada. It has the highest mortality rate of all the major cancers, and 93% of patients die within 5 years of their diagnosis. The survival rate has not improved in the last 40 years.

Pancreatic Cancer Canada (PCC) is a national, not-for-profit organization focused on fighting pancreatic cancer through raising funds for research, awareness, education and advocacy in Canada. PCC's goals are to improve overall patient survival rates and create a brighter future for those affected by pancreatic cancer.
